
Emirates SkyCargo Attains Global Award Recognition

Emirates SkyCargo’s success as a fast-expanding global air cargo carrier and reputation for unsurpassed customer service have been re-confirmed with the achievement of a number of industry accolades from around the world.

Emirates SkyCargo scored triple honours with recognition at the Cargo Airline of the Year Awards in London, the Asian Freight & Supply Chain Awards in Macau, and the Changi Airline Awards in Singapore.

The Cargo Airline of the Year Awards marked the airline’s achievement of Best Airline to the Middle East 2007 for the 19th consecutive year.â€¯ Emirates SkyCargo also won Best Airline to Africa 2007 for the first time, reflecting the carrier’s growth in this region over the past year.

On the other side of the world, the airline also won the Best Air Cargo Carrier – Middle East at the Asian Freight & Supply Chain Awards (AFSCAs). The AFSCAs are widely regarded as the most authoritative and prestigious awards in Asia.

In addition, Emirates SkyCargo was conferred the honour of being one of the Top 10 Airlines by Cargo Carriage’ at the second annual “Changi Airline Awards”.â€¯ This award ceremony was established to recognize airline contributions to Changi’s growth and to honour top performing partners.

Ram Menen, Emirates’ Divisional Senior Vice President Cargo said: “Emirates SkyCargo is honoured to receive consistent recognition from across the globe.â€¯ These endorsements emphasize that while we are growing rapidly on the global stage, we will always maintain our commitment to customer service and quality.”
