

Ayojana Fund Management (Pvt.) Ltd.

Ayojana is an investment fund management company owned equally by National Development Bank (NDB) of Sri Lanka and Commonwealth Development Corporation (CDC) of United Kingdom. Ayojana's objective is to generate superior returns for the investors in the funds that it manages by making equity investments in companies with attractive growth and earnings potential. The management at Ayojana is a focused team of young professionals with many years of experience in quoted and unquoted equity investment. Ayojana's fund managers have earmarked potential areas of development like telecommunications, tea, rubber based industry and tea plantation sector. As the business grows, the fund will be looking to divest their shareholding in it over a period of five years, ideally through a quotation on the Colombo Stock Exchange.
