

ComBank Donates CRRT Machine To National Hospital

Posted on

Dharma Dheerasinghe, Chairman, Commercial Bank; Sanath Manatunge, Chief Operating Officer, Commercial Bank; Dr A L M Nazzar, Consultant Nephrologist; and Dr Samiddhi Samarakoon, Deputy Director, NHSL at the presentation ceremony.

Commercial Bank donated a Continuous Renal Replacement Therapy (CRRT) machine to the Nephrology Unit of National Hospital of Sri Lanka (NHSL) in one of the Bank's most recent CSR projects. The CRRT machine will be used to manage the continuity of patients' kidney functions while their kidneys are undergoing surgical intervention, especially in cases of injury or virus attack. The Nephrology Department of the

NSHL is the pioneering division in Nephrology, Dialysis and Kidney Transplant services in the country. The unit provides patients with 24-hour dialysis services, a renal clinic three times a week, round-the-clock Cadaveric Kidney Transplants and weekly live Kidney Transplants. The unit also extends its services to in-patients and intensive care renal patients at the hospital's Cardiology unit