Also present were Sachithra Rambukwella, VP – People and Organization Development, DFCC Bank, and Kith Perera, Associate Manager – New Business Development and Employer Relations, AICPA and CIMA.

DFCC Bank was ranked third among Sri Lanka's top employers for CIMA members in 2026, a recognition awarded by AICPA and CIMA. It reflects DFCC's sustained focus on building a future-ready workforce through structured learning, professional development, and a strong culture of continuous improvement. At the core of this achievement is the Bank's evolving talent and culture agenda, which prioritizes capability building, leadership development, and a workplace environment that encourages growth, collaboration, and accountability. By actively supporting employees in pursuing globally recognized professional qualifications, DFCC Bank continues to strengthen both individual potential and organizational capability.

Paduma Subasinghe, Chief Human Resources Officer, DFCC Bank, said: "This recognition reflects the strength of our people and the culture we continue to build. Our focus is on creating an environment where learning is continuous, talent is nurtured, and individuals are empowered to grow with confidence. By investing in our people, we are strengthening the foundation for sustainable performance and long-term success."
