

Fouzul Hameed Presents Men's Wedding Ceremonial Collection

Posted on

Fouzul Hameed, fashion designer and Managing Director of Hameedia and Envoy Mansion, recently unveiled a range of formal attire for men, called the Wedding Ceremonial Collection.

Hameedia has been a prominent figure when bringing out fashionable attire for men in Sri Lanka and Fouzul Hameed has been at the helm guiding the company to create novel designs. With a wealth of experience spanning more than a decade, Fouzul Hameed has now extended his capabilities and knowledge to present a collection that is suitable for men who are looking to add glamour and sophistication for their special day.

The fabrics and accessories used are of the highest quality and the designs are high cut enabling clients to obtain a world class suit that reflects current trends prevalent in the world of fashion. Further, personalised consultation, designing, development and focus that pertain exclusively to the Wedding Ceremonial Collection, consisting of wedding attire, will enhance the customer experience to present standards that are on par with global fashion elements. Moreover, clients can receive a 'makeover' through the advice and guidance of Fouzul Hameed.

"Many people spend a lot of money and still they aren't able to get value for their money," said Fouzul Hameed. "Customers, who want to make a statement, understand quality and good clothing can come to us to get a world class suit. We develop concepts and designs for anyone who wants something new and unique."

Altogether, the Wedding Ceremonial Collection includes total solutions for wedding attire for men under one roof and also includes specially designed shoes to match the ensemble. Countless styles are available for selection and clients have the opportunity to get their own custom-made suit from an array of colours. The suits are designed conforming to the color and style of the bridal, giving much attention to detail so that the outfits offer the elegance and grace that accompany the ceremony.

Tailor made to cater to customer satisfaction the newest range, the Wedding Ceremonial Collection, is available Exclusively at the Envoy Mansion.
