The updated sarongs have been designed for versatility and are suited for day wear, smart casual and formal. The sarong can be worn with either a kurtha top, tunic collared shirt or a regular collared shirt while selected shirts now come with pin tux design.

Fouzul Hameed, managing director – Hameedia, said, "The potential for Sri Lankan menswear has never been more exciting. Around the world, stylish menswear has come of age and has gained momentum. It is time for Sri Lankan menswear, too, to push the boundaries of style and sophistication.”

Natural, lightweight, lint-free and long lasting, the linen used comes from the finest Irish yarns. Its texture lends itself to crispness in design, allowing its wearer to look effortlessly stylish with minimum hassle.

Launched at the Envoy Concept 2016 Fashion Show, the collection is especially designed in linen for its unique silhouette. The collection’s linen fabric allows for breathability and coolness in hot and humid summers.
