HNB Supports The Sri Lanka Welfare Society Of The Blind Women

I. Chiranthi Cooray, Chief Transformation Officer, HNB distributing dry rations to members of the Welfare Society of the Blind Women in the presence of Jonathan Alles, Managing Director and CEO, HNB, and Dilshan Rodrigo, Executive Director/COO, HNB.

Ranil Peiris, Seeduwa Customer Center Manager, HNB handing over white canes to members of the society in the presence of Shanel Perera, Officer in Charge – Sustainable Business, HNB.

Supporting the livelihoods of visually impaired women, HNB donated 300 white canes and dry ration packs to the members of the Sri Lanka Welfare Society of the Blind Women. The donations were voluntary contributions by HNB employees handed over to members of the Society under the patronage of Jonathan Alles, Managing Director and CEO, HNB.

“HNB is proud to partner with the Sri Lanka Welfare Society of the Blind Women to serve the visually impaired women of the country. Our goal is to do our part in ensuring they are given opportunities, recognition, and respect that are equal to every other citizen. We hope that partnerships of this nature will pave the way for a more inclusive and caring society,” Jonathan Alles, Managing Director and CEO, HNB, said.

With 252 customer centers across the country, HNB is one of Sri Lanka’s largest, most technologically innovative banks, having won local and global recognition for its efforts to drive forward a new paradigm in digital banking