

Lasith Nanayakkara appointed as New CIO at NSB

Posted on

Lasith Nanayakkara, Deputy General Manager - IT/CIO, NSB.

Lasith Nanayakkara was appointed by National Savings Bank (NSB) as the Deputy General Manager - IT/ Chief Information Officer (CIO), effective October 1, 2024. He succeeds Dr.

Amal Illesinghe, who retired after over 17 years of dedicated service to the Bank. Lasith Nanayakkara brings over 35 years of experience in the banking and finance sector to this role. Before joining NSB, he served as Executive Vice President and CTO at Nations Trust Bank. With extensive local and international banking expertise, he has a strong background in digital transformation and IT modernization. His leadership is expected to enhance NSB's technological capabilities and improve customer experiences in an increasingly digital banking environment.