

Mobitel mCash Shines At LankaPay Technnovation Awards 2019

(L-R): Rishani Gunaratne, Manager Mobile Financial Services, Mobitel; D Kumaratunge, Director, Payments and Settlements, Central Bank of Sri Lanka; Priyantha Liyanage, Former Chairman, LankaClear and Former Assistant Governor of Central Bank of Sri Lanka; Channa De Silva, General Manager/CEO, LankaClear; and Gayan Kalugamage, Assistant Manager, Mobile Financial Services, Mobitel.

Recognizing the excellence in the Fintech category, mCash, the mobile money platform by Mobitel was bestowed with the Silver award for 'Most Popular Electronic Payment Product' at the LankaPay Technnovation Awards 2019.

Organized by LankaClear for the third consecutive year, the Lankapay Technnovation award ceremony, recognizes payment technology innovators who have successfully addressed the emerging consumer trends by taking customer convenience to new heights. mCash emerged victorious among the banks, non-banking financial institutions and other Fintech service providers.

The Award reflects mCash's leadership in the digital front. By embracing latest technologies, mCash has raised the bar for mobile money platform, thus transforming digital payments in Sri Lanka.

Over the years, mCash has experienced immense growth with a growing business clientele and a customer base that continues to expand country-wide.

mCash works in partnership with corporates across various sectors to make its mobile payment platform available for enhanced convenience and speed in conducting financial transactions. mCash facilitates a wide array of financial services including deposits, with-drawals, sending and receiving money, digital loan, paying utility and institute bills, online payments, shopping, making charitable donations, digital standing orders and robust business-to-business solutions.