New Environmental Service from Finlay Rentokil

The ‘Sanitact Service’ is the newest environmental service marketed by Finlay Rentokil (Ceylon) Ltd. The sanitact service is a hygienic and discreet disposal of sanitary dressings from ladies washrooms in commercial buildings. In keeping with the rapidly advancing needs for sophistication in the city’s commercial and industrial environment, sanitact is becoming very popular in high-rise buildings, modern factories, banks and hotels. Organisations are encouraging this service in increasing numbers, to ensure a clean and hygienic environment in their work places.

Sanitact, since its launch in July last year, has a rapidly growing customer base which is at present 205. There are over 1,400 sanitact units installed at these customer sites catering to the needs of over 50,000 working women. Sanitact is expected to be a major contributor to the profits of Finlay Rentokil (Ceylon) Ltd. Finlay Rentokil is a franchise of Rentokil PLC, U.K., which is the largest Environmental and Health- care Services company in the world, operating in over 40 countries world-wide. Finlay Rentokil (Ceylon) Ltd. intends introducing to the local market other services that Rentokil PLC offers, like Pest Control Services and Timber Preservation.

Finlay Rentokil is a fully-owned subsidiary of James Finlay and Co. (Colombo) Ltd which enjoys a hundred year old history in Sri Lanka.
