

People's Bank celebrates 77 Years of Independence by offering gifts to Newborns

Posted on

Prof. Narada Fernando, Chairman, People's Bank, presents a gift to newborn babies at Castle Street Hospital and De Soysa Hospital for Women in Borella. Also in the picture are the hospital directors, People's Bank DGM (Retail Banking) T.M.W. Chandrakumara, and DGM (Enterprise Banking) Wickrama Narayana.

People's Bank Celebrated Sri Lanka's 77th National Independence Day with a modest ceremony under the patronage of Prof. Narada Fernando, Chairman of People's Bank, and Clive Fonseka, CEO/GM.

People's Bank's 'Birth of Freedom' program, which commences every Independence Day, was also carried out this year. Under this initiative, People's Bank gifts a 2,000 rupees 'Isuru Udana' Gift Certificate to every baby born between February 1 and 14. Prof. Narada Fernando, Chairman of People's Bank, symbolically presented 'Isuru Udana' gift vouchers and other gifts at the Castle Street Hospital for Women and the De Soysa Hospital for Women in Borella. People's Bank also donated a Counter for Birth Certification with gang chairs to the Castle Street Hospital for Women and to the De Soysa Hospital for Women.

Dr. Ajith Danthanarayana, Director of the Castle Street Hospital for Women, and Dr.

Pradeep Wijesinghe, Director of the De Soysa Hospital for Women in Borella, along with hospital staff, corporate and executive management of People's Bank, and staff members from the Colombo North and South Regions, were also present at the event.