

SLT-MOBITEL Champions the 95th Battle of the Maroons

Posted on

Prabhath Dahanayake, CMO, SLT-Mobitel (centre), officials from SLT-Mobitel along with Ananda College and Nalanda College during the announcement of the partnership.

SLT-MOBITEL, stepped forward as the Official Telecommunications Partner for the 95th Battle of the Maroons, a historic cricketing encounter in Sri Lanka's sporting calendar.

This iconic event brings together two of the country's leading schools, Ananda College and Nalanda College, in a grand celebration of sportsmanship, heritage, and excellence.

The synergy between SLT-MOBITEL's rich legacy in technological innovation and the enduring traditions of the Battle of the Maroons creates a powerful platform for fostering the spirit of competition and camaraderie. As a company committed to empowering Sri Lanka's future, SLT-MOBITEL takes immense pride in supporting this esteemed event, recognizing its role in shaping young cricketers who go on to make a mark both nationally and internationally.

By championing the 95th Battle of the Maroons, SLT-MOBITEL reinforces its dedication to advancing sports and youth development through cutting-edge connectivity and digital solutions. This partnership ensures that the tournament reaches wider audiences, enabling fans to experience the excitement seamlessly through enhanced communication and engagement.

SLT-MOBITEL remains steadfast in its commitment to driving progress, ensuring that every moment of this grand encounter is seamlessly connected, celebrated, and remembered for generations to come.