Soar Technology wins International Quality Crowd, Award

Soar Technology was presented with an International Quality Crown Award in the Gold Category at the 17th International Convention that was held in London in December 2005. Roshan Gunathilake is the Chairman of Soar Technology, a ISO 9001 :2000 certified company. This is the first time since the Convention’s inception that a Sri Lankan company has been presented with this prestigious award. The purpose of the Convention was to recognize the commitment to quality of awarded companies whose activities cover the top areas of industrial production and services. The event was presided by Jose E Prieto, President and CEO, Business Initiative Directions of Madrid, Spain. He said, “The awarded companies are symbols of commitment to leadership, tech
